Thank you for the pdf copy of your newly published book of poetry and visual art. I am pleased to have played a very minor part in bringing this work to publication.

Congratulations also on the graduation of sumanene from its former status as a rare chemical to its new status as a commercially available research compound.

I am very touched. The book covers many topics - some sad and others full of hope. Thank you for sharing that side of you!

Thank you so much for this wonderful book. I am greatly looking forward reading your poetry and exploring your thought-scales.

Thanks a lot for your book. I'll read it with interest in a calm time, best in holiday. Poetry books need attention and concentration. I envy that you can do this, I would love to.

Our daughter is actually learning Japanese, she likes you country and culture. I forwarded it also to her. All the best and my sincere wishes

Many thanks - wonderful! CONGRATULATON! I will read your texts with great interest.

This is very thoughtful. Thank you.

I hope everything is all right with you. I will read you poems (will take some time) and appreciate your pastels. It is always good to hear from you.

I enjoyed very much your sophisticated pastel pictures and poetries which have brought me to deeply reflect on the mystery of life.

Chemistry is deeply involved in this mystery but I don't think that eventually it will give the true solution which is may be in the poetry. Thanks for you splendid gift.

It is nice to hear from you. Many thanks for sending me your book which I am sure I'll read with a great pleasure.

Congratulations for your talent as a writer, a rare ability in science people!

Looking forward to seeing in in Montevideo, if not earlier.

Many thanks and many congratulations.

I really admire your gifts as both an outstanding scientist and a writer, a very rare combination!

Thank you very much for sharing your poetry!

The semester is coming to its end and I will start reading and enjoying your poems shortly.

What a nice gift for our community. I'll continue to read it with much interest

I wish you all the best for anything you desire with friendship

Thank you so much for your poetry book. I am impressed by this book and the way that you are writing poetry. I really enjoy it

Thank you for sending me your bilingual poetry book. I admire your talent on poetry and drawing.

Thank you for this gift. I will read it.

Thanks - I look forward to reading it!

Thanks for thinking of me for this book. I will read as I am retiring now and will have time for reading pleasures.

Thank you very much. You are man of many talents. I wish you all the best in your works.

I did not know you are a poet and pastel drawer. This is wonderful! I was also very surprised to learn that you already retired. To me, you have always been a youngster! In any case, thank you for sending me these documents which I will certainly try to read. I checked in my computer and I found a few publications of yours. I remember particularly well you CCR paper on "Conjugated systems composed of transition metals and redox-active π -conjugated ligands". At the time, I enjoyed reading this nice paper.

Thank you very much for your email. Things are going very well here in most regards; research is going well right now. I enjoy poetry, so thank you for letting me know about your book. I will get a copy. Thanks.

I have been very happy to receive your e-mail with the marvelous attachments. Thank you very much for this surprise! I will have a more detailed look and reading as soon as possible. It is obvious that your art deserves very silent moments of contemplation. And I will certainly enjoy those moments with your poetry.

Please give me time to respond after reading Kazuhiko's poems. I am sure that the pseudonym has a deep meaning. Which is it?

Thanks as well for your kind wishes. I reciprocate them to you and send you my kind regards,

I am sorry for my late reply. Thank you very much for your kind message and PDF files of your English-Japanese bilingual poetry book. They are very impressive. Congratulations! You have completed one more of your dream! I admire that you could have such kind of talents beside your chemistry.

It is close to the end of university semester. Many things come together and we are busier. But, I hope that you could come back to visit us again for some sightseeing.

I am pretty surprised indeed that you have also written poetry. "Chemistry" and "poetry" - at first sight - do not seem to fit together, but apparently - as you demonstrated - they do. Of the poems you have sent I particularly enjoyed "View of Prayer" "Motionless" and "With the Wind". "View of Prayer" is my favorite one, because it is notably sensitive.

It's great to hear from you. Thank you so much for the collection of beautiful and evocative poems. I have read them now once and I look forward to spending more time with them when I have some quiet time.

I am fine. I hope all is well with you.
